

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

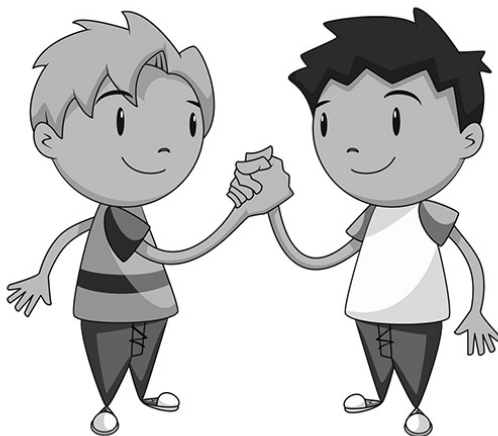

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

It's great to see you!

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Where do you like to catch up with your friends?
- What do you like to do when you catch up with friends?
What do you talk about?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about people's behavior and personality.
- I can talk about rooms and objects in them.
- I can talk about past and present habits.

Let's Explore!

Marco visits Vanessa in Cambridge. He hasn't been there in ages.

* "Ages" means a very long time.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Marco: It's great to see you, Vanessa.

Vanessa: It's great to see you, too! I've anxiously awaited your visit ... Have you been to Massachusetts before?

Marco: I used to come visit here when I was a kid. We would come and visit my Uncle Doug - he lived here for ages. I remember he used to collect snow globes. He would show us his collection whenever we visited.

Vanessa: Really? I had no idea you had family in the US

Marco: I usually keep a little mystery in my relationships - to keep things interesting. My mother would always tell me to not reveal too much at the start of a relationship.

Vanessa: That's ... strange.

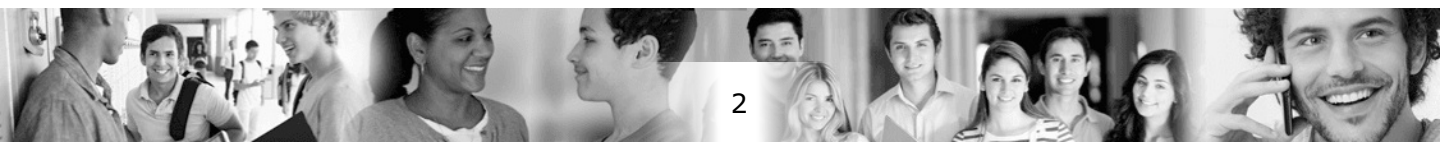

Marco: Strange? I thought you liked a little mystery in a man.

Vanessa: There's mystery, and then there's withholding information!

Marco: Wow - you are clearly overly sensitive about this, V.

Vanessa: Me? I gladly share personal details with people that I'm supposedly in love with! Look here in my study. I have a collection of snow globes, too! What do you think of that?

Marco: It's my way or the highway, honey.

Let's Practice!

How do Marco and Vanessa behave?

Instructions: Read the dialogue on page 2 again. Select the correct answer a, b or c.

1. Vanessa has _____ Marco's visit.
 - a. anxious waited
 - b. anxiously awaiting
 - c. anxiously awaited
2. Marco says that Vanessa is _____ about his comments.
 - a. overly sensitive
 - b. over sensitive
 - c. overly sensible
3. Marco's uncle was _____.
 - a. a weird
 - b. a little weird
 - c. weirdly little

Let's Practice!

Let's talk about past and present habits.

Instructions: Choose the correct word to complete the sentence. Write the word in the blank.

1. I _____ come visit here when I was a kid.
(used to / use to / used would)
2. We _____ and visit my Uncle Doug.
(would coming / would to come / would come)
3. He _____ us his collection of snow globes whenever we visited.
(would show / use to / would showed)
4. I _____ a little mystery in my relationships.
(keep usually / usually keep / usual keep)
5. I _____ personal details with people that I'm _____ with.
(glad share / gladly share / share glad) (supposedly in love with / supposedly love / supposed love)

Extension Activity

Let's talk about present and past habits.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Make a list of things that you used to do and things that you do now.
- Compare your list with a partner.
- Discuss the differences.
- Ask follow-up questions to keep the conversation going.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I make a list of past and present habits.

☐ ☐

I share my list with my partner.

☐ ☐

I ask follow-up questions to keep the conversation going.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- anxiously (adverb): wanting something very much e.g. I'm anxiously preparing for your visit.
- to await (verb): to wait for an event
e.g. I've anxiously awaited your visit.
- snow globe (noun): a toy that contains water and snow in a clear globe that creates a "snowing" scene when you shake it e.g. My uncle used to collect snow globes as souvenirs.
- to reveal (verb): to show
e.g. Don't reveal too much at the beginning of the relationship.
- study (noun): a small room to read or study in e.g. I keep my collection of snow globes in my study.
- overly (adverb): excessively; unreasonably e.g. I'm overly sensitive today.

Learning Points

Used to and Would to Talk About Past Habits

When you talk about repetitive events in the past, you can use used to or would. You usually use these expressions when you talk about memories from your childhood or earlier days.

Example:

I used to come visit here when I was a kid.

We would come and visit my Uncle Doug - he lived here for ages.

You use used to when you refer to conditions, states or actions that do not happen anymore.

Examples:

I used to have many friends at school.

My parents used to be strict with me.

We used to like the same type of music.

You use would for actions that were repetitive in the past. However, you do not use it to talk about past state.

Example:

He would study for hours in the garden.

My mother would always tell me to not reveal too much at the start of a relationship.

Use the infinitive verb with these expressions:

Used to + verb (I used to live here.)

Would + verb (We would talk for hours.)

Learning Points

Rooms in a House

There are many different rooms in a typical North American house. Each room has its own purpose. Here is a list of rooms and some information about each. How are they different from rooms in your country?

Room	Purpose
Living room	A room where people come together to talk and watch TV.
Kitchen	A room where people cook and sometimes eat meals. The kitchen is usually considered to be the "heart" of the home.
Dining room	A room where people eat meals. It is usually for formal meals with guests.
Bathroom	A room where people use the toilet, take showers/baths and wash their hands. There is usually more than one bathroom in a house.
Bedroom	A room where people sleep and get dressed. There is usually more than one bedroom.
Den / Study	A small room used for studying, reading or relaxing.
Laundry room	A room where people wash and dry their clothes.

Examples:

- Look here in my study - I have a collection of snowglobes.
- I bought new tools for my kitchen.
- Where are you? I'm in the bedroom!

