

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let me make it up to you.

Learning Outcome

Identify and provide solutions to problems in a range of social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- When you and a friend have an argument, do you like to do something to make them feel better?
- What do you do to make it up to others?

Can Do Statements

- I can apologize and respond to apologies.
- I can talk about what is advisable.
- I can talk about what is necessary.

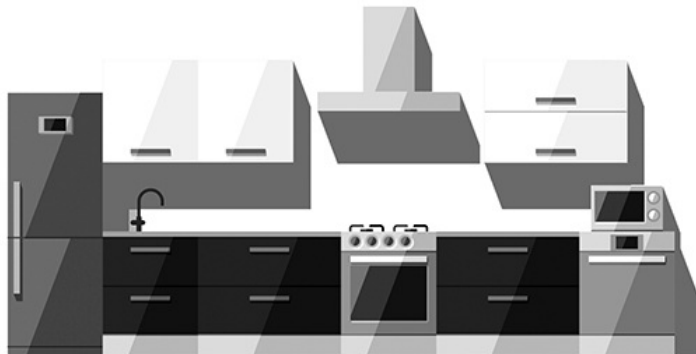

Let's Explore!

Marco and Vanessa are in the kitchen. Who had better get cracking?

* To "get cracking" means to get started.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Marco: Speaking of dinner ... Why don't I make you dinner tonight? I'd like to show you how sincere my apology is.
- Vanessa: Step into my kitchen, darling. I just bought a bunch of new tools! You ought to take a look!
- Marco: Hmm, I see you have a whole set of chef's knives ... wow! I'm going to have to try some of those tonight.
- Vanessa: I got a new wok and garlic press, too! You've got to make your famous stir-fry!
- Marco: You can learn a few things watching me, you know. You'd better watch closely.
- Vanessa: Are you saying that I can't make a stir-fry? That's insulting, you know.
- Marco: Come on, V. I didn't mean it like that! I'm sorry, again!
- Vanessa: Don't be a jerk, Marco. OK, let's make up. Why don't you take my new cutting board and start your creation! I shouldn't have reacted that way.
- Marco: That's alright ... I'm sorry for being arrogant.
- Vanessa: You couldn't help it, I know. Don't worry about it.
- Marco: That's my girl. OK, I'd better get cracking!

Let's Practice!

Marco and Vanessa talk about advice.

Instructions: Choose the correct option to complete each part of the dialogue.

1. Vanessa says: I just bought a bunch of new tools.
 - a. You ought to taking a look.
 - b. You ought to take a look.
 - c. You ought to takes a look.
2. Marco says: You can learn a few things watching me, you know.
 - a. You'd better watch closely.
 - b. You better watch closely.
 - c. You best watch closely.
3. Marco wants to get started on cooking. He says:
 - a. I better get cracking.
 - b. I'd better get cracking.
 - c. I'd better go cracking.

Let's Practice!

Marco and Vanessa make up. What do they say?

Instructions: Use the following expressions to complete the conversation between Vanessa and Marco.

Word bank

alright ... I'm sorry for / I don't mean it / worry about / insulting / couldn't help it / I didn't mean it
/ insulted / I shouldn't have

1. Vanessa: Are you saying that I can't make a stir-fry? That's _____, you know.
2. Marco: Come on, V. _____ like that! I'm sorry, again!
3. Vanessa: Vanessa: Don't be a jerk, Marco. OK, let's make up. Why don't you take my new cutting board and start your creation! _____ reacted that way.
4. Marco: That's _____ being arrogant.
5. Vanessa: You _____, I know. Don't _____ it.

Extension Activity

Tell me how to make your famous creation!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a recipe you know well.
- Explain how to make it to your partner.
- Include what kitchen tools you need.
- Try to use the structure "going to have to/got to".

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I explain how to make my famous creation to my partner.

☐ ☐

I talk about the tools I need to make it.

☐ ☐

I talk about necessity.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- sincere (adjective): honest; truthful
e.g. I want to show you how sincere my apology is.
- chef's knives (noun): special knives for cooking
e.g. I see you have a whole set of chef's knives.
- wok (noun): a special frying pan used for making stir-fry e.g. I got a new wok!
- garlic press (noun): a tool used to crush garlic
e.g. Do you like my new garlic press?
- cutting board (noun): a special board used to cut bread, vegetables or other food e.g. Why don't you use my new cutting board?
- insulting (adjective): hurting someone's feelings
e.g. You can be insulting sometimes.
- creation (noun): something that you make or create
e.g. Come into my kitchen and start your creation!

Learning Points

Expressing What is Necessary

You use ought to and had better to say what you or another person needs to do. A short form for had better is 'd better.

Examples:

You ought to take a look!
You 'd better watch closely.
I 'd better get cracking!

Apologizing

You can use different phrases to make and accept an apology.

You apologize when you know you have hurt someone's feelings. There are polite and casual phrases to make and accept an apology.

	Making an Apology	Accepting an Apology
Polite	Pardon me for this ... Please, forgive me for my ... Please, accept my apologies for ... Please, forgive me for ... I'd like to apologize for ...	I quite understand. You couldn't help it. That's all right. Never mind. Don't apologize.
Casual	I'm so sorry for ... I shouldn't have ... It's all my fault. I apologize for ...	It doesn't matter. Don't mention it. That's OK. Forget about it. Don't worry about it. No harm done.

Examples:

- Ben: I'm sorry for hurting your feelings.
- Cathy: That's OK. Don't worry about it.

