Let's Start!

I need some time to think.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about past habits.
- I can talk about what I did.
- I can discuss experiences I've had or haven't had.

Ask your partner:

- When you have a big decision to make, what helps you think?
- Where do you like to spend time alone?

Let's Explore!

Vanessa decides she needs a break. What did Marco play over and over in his head?

* To "play something over and over" means to think about it a lot.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Marco: Vanessa? Where are you?
Vanessa: I'm in my bedroom, packing my suitcase.
Marco: What? What do you mean? You can't leave!
Vanessa: I've never felt so humiliated. This happened in San Francisco, too!
Marco: I never used to behave like this ... I don't know what's happening to me. I've totally lost my sense of self!
Vanessa: I think you know exactly who you are and you've only lost your mind!
Marco: In San Francisco, I would play our reunion over and over in my head. I never imagined it would be like this!
Vanessa: Well, I used to think you were the one, but now I don't know.
Marco: You're taking your clothes, hairdryer, toiletries, shoes ... how long are you going for?
Vanessa: I'm not sure. I've decided I need a break ... just to think things through. You are welcome to crash here.
Marco: Without you ... ?
Vanessa: I think you need the time to think, too. You can't behave like this, Marco. If you need me, I have my cell. Good bye!

Let's Practice!

What did Marco and Vanessa do in the past?

Instructions: Underline the mistakes in the dialogue.

Marco: I never use to behave like this ... I don't know what's happening to me. In San Francisco, I would playing our reunion over and up in my head. I never imagined it would be like this !

Vanessa: Well, I used to thinks you were the one, but now I don't know.

Let's Practice!

Let's talk about the present and the past!

Instructions: Take a look at the word bank and write the words under the correct category

Word Bank

- I imagine you want to leave now.
- This happened again.
- What happens in San Francisco stays in San Francisco.
- This is crazy!
- We were so happy.
- I imagined it would be different.

Present	Past

Extension Activity

Let's talk about what to bring!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Imagine you have had an argument and you have decided to take a break.
- Write down 10 things you would take with you.
- Share your items with your partner and explain why you would take those things.
- Ask follow-up questions to keep the conversation going.

Target Words

- to pack (verb): to put things in a suitcase or bag for a trip
e.g. I'm in my bedroom, packing my suitcase.
- humiliated (adjective): feeling embarrassed or ashamed e.g. I've never felt so humiliated.
- reunion (noun): when two or more people come together after a long period of time
e.g. I would play our reunion over and over in my head.
- toiletries (noun): things used to take care of your body (soap, shampoo etc.)
e.g. You're taking your clothes and toiletries.
- to think things through (expression): to consider things carefully e.g. I need a break...just to think things through.
- to crash (expression): to sleep at someone's house
e.g. You are welcome to crash here.

Learning Points

The Present Perfect Tense vs. The Simple Past Tense

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a finished action or event that is connected to the present in some way.

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished action or event not necessarily connected to the present.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experience. When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.

For example:

I have learned English = I learned English in the past and now I can speak English.

He has bought a painting = He bought the painting in the past and now he has a painting.

We use have/has + the past participle of the verb in Present Perfect sentences.

	Past tense	Past participle form	Example
go	went	gone	I have gone to Japan.
lose	lost	lost	He's lost all sense of self.
feel	felt	felt	I have never felt so humiliated.
decide	decided	decided	I've decided I need a break.

Learning Points

Used to and Would to Talk About Past Habits

You can use the expressions used to and would to talk about events or activities that were usual or repetitive in the past. You may use them to describe past routines.

You use used to with all types of verbs, including general condition or specific actions.

Example:

I never used to behave like this.

You used would when there is a specific time for the action to happen.

Example:

In San Francisco, I would play our reunion over and over in my head.

For the negative form of used to, you use the auxiliary verb did; the form is didn't use.

Example:

I didn't use to behave like this.
