

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

You're always telling me what to do.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- How would you describe your temper?
- Do you have a short temper?
- Do you get angry easily?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about people's behavior and personality.
- I can talk about past and present habits.
- I can talk about what is necessary.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa tells Marco to tone it down. Why?

* To "tone it down" means to calm down and be less emotional.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: So, you want a tour of my place? Are you usually this demanding?
Marco: I've got to be ... you don't know what you want.
Vanessa: You're going to have to be more careful about how you phrase things. I do know what I want, I'm just not as pushy as you. You're always telling me what to do!
Marco: In San Francisco, you would let me decide things for us. You hardly ever offered your own ideas ... it was always "Marco ... what should we do tonight? Marco ... what should I wear? Marco ..."
Vanessa: You're dangerously close to me throwing you out ... you have got to tone it down.
Marco: You're being unreasonably stubborn right now, V. You used to be more fun ... what happened?
Vanessa: Nothing happened. I don't like the way you're acting right now.
Marco: You're right. It's not you, it's me. I've got to get my feelings under control. I'm just so passionately involved in trying to make you happy. Sometimes I get a little carried away.

Let's Practice!

What was it like? What is it like now?

Instructions: Draw a line to match the words from the column A to the words from the column B to complete each sentence.

COLUMN A

1. In San Francisco, you would
2. You hardly
3. Are you usually
4. You used to be
5. It was always
6. Sometimes I get

COLUMN B

- a. "Marco ... what should we do tonight?"
- b. this demanding?
- c. a little carried away.
- d. more fun ... what happened?
- e. let me decide things for us.
- f. ever offered your own ideas.

Let's Practice!

How does she act? What's he like?

Instructions: Place the words into the correct category.

Words to describe behavior

Words to describe personality

Word bank

passionately / dangerously fun / pushy / unreasonably / stubborn

Extension Activity

Tell me more about yourself!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write down 6 adjectives and 6 adverbs on different pieces of paper.
- With a partner, mix up the words together.
- Choose a word from the pile and use that word to start a conversation.
- Talk about yourself or other people.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write down 6 adjectives and 6 adverbs.

☐ ☐

I use these words to start a conversation with my partner.

☐ ☐

I talk about myself and other people.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- demanding (adjective): hard to please; tiresome
e.g. Are you usually this demanding?
- to phrase (verb): to say; to put into words
e.g. You should be more careful about how you phrase things.
- to throw someone out (expression): to make someone leave a place
e.g. You're dangerously close to me throwing you out.
- stubborn (adjective): unwilling to change your mind
e.g. You're being very stubborn right now.
- to get carried away (expression): to be overcome with emotion
e.g. Sometimes I get a little carried away.
- to get something under control (expression): to gain control of a situation after losing it for a short time
e.g. I've got to get my feelings under control.

Learning Points

Expressing What is Necessary

You use have got to to say what you or another person needs to do. Have got to is more commonly used in British English.

Subject I/they/we/you She/he	+ have got to/ has got to	+ verb in base form + complement.
------------------------------------	--------------------------------------	-----------------------------------

Examples:

- You have got to tone it down.
- I've got to get my feelings under control.
- He's got to get his feelings under control.
- She's got to know what she wants.

Used to and Would to Talk About Past Habits

You talk about regular events in the past, you can use used to or would.

Example:

*We used to think we were meant to be together.
We'd say we were soul mates.*

You use used to when you refer to conditions, states or actions that do not happen anymore.

Example:

*You used to be more fun ... what happened?
We used to make plans together.*

You use would for actions that were repetitive in the past. However, you do not use it to talk about past state.

Example:

*In San Francisco, you would let me decide things for us.
We'd spend more time together.*

